

There's a Ghost

by Kathy Klein

There's a ghost in my house
It is bigger than a mouse
And although it does not squeak
It sometimes makes me shriek!

There's a ghost in my yard
It makes my life so hard
It follows like a pest
No wonder I can't rest!

There's a ghost in my bed
Flying over my head
While it's quiet as a tree
It's as scary as can be!

There's a ghost on my knee
Won't you come rescue me
I am shaking like a leaf
Still you sit there with relief!

There's a ghost by my feet
It is dark and petite
It is dancing it is jumping
Though it makes no noise when thumping

When I smile, it does too
It does everything I do
Silly you, were you wanting
To believe this was a haunting?
The ghost is free as can be
